Did You Know?: Rhône & Provence

The Young's Fine Wine team is soon heading back to France, this time exploring two of our favorite wine regions: the Rhône Valley and Provence!

The Rhône Valley, stretching along the Rhône River, is famed for its diverse terroir and wide range of wines. The north is dominated by the Syrah grape, producing elegant, age-worthy reds from appellations like Crozes-Hermitage and Côte-Rôtie. In the south, Grenache, Syrah, and Mourvèdre come together in bold blends, most famously Châteauneuf-du-Pape, celebrated for its rich flavors and complexity.

Further south lies Provence, where sun-drenched vineyards and Mediterranean breezes create the perfect conditions for the world's most beloved rosés. From pale, crisp, and refreshing styles to more structured bottlings, Provence rosés embody the relaxed yet refined spirit of the region.

Both regions showcase France's ability to balance tradition with innovation, producing wines that remain iconic worldwide. We can't wait to be back, visiting some of our favourite producers and exploring new possibilities!

Browse our Rhône and Provence selections from such renowned producers as Famille Perrin (owners of Château de Beaucastel), Paul Jaboulet Ainé, Château Miraval and Domaine de L'Ile.
